The IgniteTable by Hatch provides a collaborative learning experience for children to engage with peers while building social-emotional learning, communication, and prosocial skills. As young learners play, IgniteTable automatically captures authentic work samples and data so teachers can spend less time administering SEL assessments and more time focusing on the specific SEL skill areas that are crucial for each child's success in school and beyond. The subscription includes the development of social-emotional learning while allowing children to explore new vocabulary through peer dialogue. The system includes a variety of games aligned to the Collaborative for Academic, Social, and Emotional Learning's framework. Also included is a robust database detailing student progress, real-time video documentation, and a scoring system for teachers. The system is fully integrated with the Hatch Insights reporting dashboard, allowing access to a variety of reports and metrics on child and class progress. Because of all its unique capabilities, we believe the IgniteTable to be the sole source interactive touch table necessary to best address social-emotional and executive functioning skills development for early learners.
